

Sydney Artist, Daniel Pata's paintings explore the extremes of landscape, ranging from coastal city environments to arid regions of the Australian outback such as Mutawinjtj, the Flinders and MacDonnell Ranges. Much of Daniel's work is painted directly from the subject, "en plein air".

Pata is recent finalist in the 2021 AGNSW Wynne Prize, for landscape painting and has regularly featured in finalist awards including the NSW Parliament Plein-Air Painting Prize, AGNSW Dobell Prize for drawing, and the Kedumba Drawing Award, amongst others.

Daniel Pata is represented in major Public Collections in Australia and Internationally, including The Gosford Regional Gallery Collection, NSW; Sturt University, NSW; National Gallery of Australia, Canberra, ACT; St Peters College, Oxford University, UK, and numerous Corporate and Private collections in Australia, Europe, USA.
